March 2017

Dear Recruiter,

This letter is to express my interest in your Front End Software Developer position.

Some background - I'm currently pursuing a Master's in Computer Science at Cornell Tech in New York City, having received a Bachelor's in Computer Science prior. I'm interested in IDEO because the company and I both care about the same thing — well-designed products. The design of a product is something I've recognized early on as a competitive advantage across all kinds of disruptive technologies. It can truly make or break a product.

As someone who considers herself at the intersection of both design and development, this role represents the best of both worlds. As a designer, I have received very good feedback on my work done with Sketch and Keynote for rapid prototyping and presentation designs. As a developer, my background includes internships involving web design and development using HTML/CSS/JS and optimizing the UI for Unity applications.

Feel free to refer to my portfolio links for more examples of my product and design work.

I look forward to hearing back!

Sincerely,
Frances Coronel
